The 2007 Northern California Career and Leadership Summit “Leadership ... Filling the Void”

- ON THE PROGRAM -

Jerry Strom - (Walnut Creek) - Presents a dynamic, energizing series of interactive leadership programs to guide the growth and development of established and emerging leaders. These core competencies provide a balanced, symmetrical perspective to "organizational leadership," and are proven principles that effective leaders have learned to act upon personally and professionally to achieve their desired results. He helps Leaders establish credibility and achieve greater influence - renewing your joy, energy, and enthusiasm - while maximizing your personal and organizational potential.

James F. Bracher, (Monterey) "Integrity in Leadership" - Jim Bracher, architect for the renewal of integrity-centered leadership, created the Bracher Center for Integrity in Leadership in 2002, as an extension of his 33 years advising individuals and organizations. In addition to conducting leadership effectiveness workshops - facilitating MBA Impact; he is the originator of the "Talking with Leaders" symposia; writes a weekly newspaper column, Integrity Matters ;and has co-authored a book, by the same title: Integrity Matters.

Roydon Clark (Hollywood) - Roydon is a Film Director, Stuntman and Stunt Coordinator for several major motion films and TV programs. He will share an inspirational and motivational presentation on his life in Hollywood and what he has learned as being important in representing "Confidence in Leadership" from making $25 a week cleaning stalls for western movies to becoming a well respected Director, Actor and Stuntman. His most recognizable work as a stuntman has been working as the stunt double for James Garner over the course of 50 years.
